

WORDS

Key Scripture: John 6:63 (AMP)
“It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh profits nothing. The words that I speak to you are spirit and life.”

Introduction

As Gatekeepers (Intercessors), we stand at the intersection between heaven and earth, one of the most powerful tools entrusted to us in this office is WORDS. In the natural world, words are used primarily for communication. They are spoken or written expressions used to share ideas, give instructions, and exchange information. Across cultures, languages, and nations, words are essential for daily interaction and human relationships.

However, in the Kingdom of God, words are far more than communication. They are vessels that carry spirit, authority, and power. Every word spoken by a Gatekeeper releases activity in the realm of the spirit. This is why Scripture places great emphasis on speech, confession, declaration, and prayer.

Key Devotional Points

1. Words Are Spiritual and Carry Life or Death

Jesus reveals a profound Kingdom truth when He declares that His words are spirit and life (John 6:63). This means words are not empty sounds but are energized by the spirit behind them. Every word spoken releases either life or death, blessing or limitation, depending on its spiritual source.

As Gatekeepers, our words are meant to release life, restoration, healing, and alignment with God's purpose. This becomes possible as we continually yield ourselves to the ministry of the word of God and Holy Spirit. When the Spirit governs our speech, our words become instruments through which God's life flows into people, situations, and territories.

WORDS

2. The Power Behind the Gatekeeper Determines Word Effectiveness

Not every word spoken produces results. Words become effective according to the measure of God's power actively at work within the speaker. "According to His power that works in us" (Ephesians 3:20)

As we grow in obedience, prayer, fasting, humility, and discipline, the authority behind our words increases. God releases power progressively, ensuring that authority is matched with maturity. This is why some words manifest immediately while others do not—God measures the readiness of the vessel before activating the power behind the word.

3. The Word of God Is Spirit-Backed

The Bible is the written record of what God has spoken, it is not a religious book or historical document. It is alive because it carries the Spirit behind it. Every word of Scripture is empowered by God's divine breath.

When we read, meditate on, believe, and declare the Word of God, We are not simply reading text—but releasing spiritual authority. The Word works because it is Spirit-backed. It penetrates hearts, transforms minds, and aligns lives with God's will.

4. Jesus: The Pattern for Gatekeepers

Jesus demonstrated how words operate in the Kingdom of God:

- Water was turned into wine through instruction
- The sick were healed by a spoken word
- Storms were calmed by a command
- Peter's destiny was shaped by a declaration

What appeared ordinary to men was powerful because the Spirit backed the words. Jesus did not rely on emotional expressions or long explanations. He spoke with authority because His words flowed from complete alignment with the Father. This same principle applies to Us As Gatekeepers today. Authority flows from alignment, not effort.

WORDS

5. Words Mobilize the Spirit Realm

When we speak in alignment with God's will, our words activate the spirit realm. Words do not return empty when they are Spirit-led (Isaiah 55:11). Through aligned speech, angels are mobilized, power is released and Divine authority is enforced.

Jesus and His disciples healed, delivered, and transformed lives primarily through words. As spiritual depth increased, spiritual results increased.

6. Responsibility Increases the Weight of Words

As Gatekeepers, our words carry weight because of the office we occupy, our speech is not neutral. Every word we speak carries consequences in the unseen realm.

"Death and life are in the power of the tongue" (Proverbs 18:21)

This is why careless speech is dangerous especially for an Intercessor because of the office you occupy. Words spoken in frustration, fear, or pride can weaken spiritual authority. Discipline in speech preserves spiritual integrity and sustains effectiveness in intercession.

7. Trust Comes Before Greater Power

God entrusts power only to those He can trust. Authority is given progressively, not suddenly.

King Saul lost authority because he misused power and disregarded God's instruction.

David preserved authority because he honoured God's Word, even in his weakness.

Some unanswered prayers are not denial but divine protection—God withholding power until the vessel is ready. Trustworthiness precedes empowerment.

8. Words in Gatekeeping and Intercession

Intercession is the powerhouse of the Church, through intercession, God's purposes are enforced in families, cities, nations, and kingdoms.

Words spoken in intercession shape spiritual climates and influence outcomes beyond what the natural eye can see. Even posture matters. Kneeling expresses humility, submission, and alignment with God's authority.

"Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will never pass away" (Matthew 24:35)

In Conclusion, As Intercessors we must be careful with the words we speak. To walk faithfully in this office, we must continually align our speech with God's Word and His Spirit.
